NEW QUESTION: 3

DRAG DROP

Your team uses Microsoft Test Manager (MTM) to manage test cases. You have a test plan with test cases organized in multiple test suites. You add a new configuration and associate it to your test plan.

You need to include the new configuration in a test suite as part of the default configurations.

Which three actions should you perform in sequence? To answer, move the appropriate actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.

Select and Place:

Answer:

Update Configurations for Specific Test Cases

You can update the default assignments of test configurations to test cases in each suite. You can remove pairings that you do not want to test and add other combinations. This gives you the flexibility to specify in your plan only those pairings of configurations and test cases that you really want to test as shown in the following illustration.
