Answer: B,C Explanation:
B: If you want the viewport width to match the device's physical pixels, you can specify the following:
<meta name="viewport" content="width=device-width">

For this to work correctly, you must not explicitly force elements to exceed that width (e.g., using a width attribute or CSS property), otherwise the browser will be forced to use a larger viewport regardless.
D: Media queries in CSS3 extend the CSS2 media types idea: Instead of looking for a type of device, they look at the capability of the device.
Media queries can be used to check many things, such as:
width and height of the viewport width and height of the device orientation (is the tablet/phone in landscape or portrait mode?)
resolution
Using media queries are a popular technique for delivering a tailored style sheet to tablets, iPhone, and Androids.
