NEW QUESTION: 1

Five requisition lines of a single requisition document are available to process on to purchase order. But the buyer returned one requisition line to the requester for quantity modification.

What will be the effect of this action on the remaining four requisition lines?

- A. They will also get returned to the requester.
- B. They will be available to process on to purchase order.
- C. They will be in the "withdrawn" status.
- D. They will be put on hold until the requester resubmits the returned line with the correct quantity.
- E. They will get canceled.

Answer: D

Explanation:

How can I reject individual items on a multi-item requisition? You cannot selectively approve or reject individual items. You can edit the requisition to add or delete items, modify requisition quantity, and then approve the requisition. If the approver needs to reject specific lines on the requisition, the approver should reject the entire requisition. The approver can include comments on the worklist task to highlight the rejection reason. The preparer then needs to update the requisition and resubmit it for approval.
