NEW QUESTION: 1

What's Wrong with Biff and Happy?

[Biff is talking with his brother, Happy. They are together with their parents in the home where they grew up.]

BIFF: [with rising agitation] Hap, I've had twenty or thirty different kinds of jobs since I left home before the war, and it always turns out the same. I just realized it lately. In Nebraska, when I herded cattle, and the Dakotas, and Arizona, and now in Texas. It's why I came home now, I guess, because I realized it.

This farm I work on, it's spring there now, see? And they've got about fifteen new colts. There's nothing more inspiring or-beautiful than the sight of a mare and a new colt. And it's cool there now, see? Texas is cool now, and it's spring. And whenever spring comes to where I am, I suddenly get the feeling, my God, I'm not gettin' anywhere! What the hell am I doing, playing around with horses, twenty-eight dollars a week! I'm thirty-four years old, I oughta be makin' my future. That's when I come running home. And now, I get here, and I don't know what to do with myself. [After a pause] I've always made a point of not wasting my life, and every time I come back here I know that all I've done is to waste my life.

HAPPY: You're a poet, you know that, Biff?

You're a - you're an idealist!

BIFF: No, I'm mixed up very bad. Maybe I oughta get married. Maybe I oughta get stuck into something.

Maybe that's my trouble. I'm like a boy. I'm not married, I'm not in business, I just - I'm like a boy. Are you content, Hap? You're a success, aren't you? Are you content?

HAPPY: Hell, no!

BIFF: Why? You're making money, aren't you?

HAPPY: [moving about with energy, expressiveness] All I can do now is wait for the merchandise manager to die. And suppose I get to be merchandise manager? He's a good friend of mine, and he just built a terrific estate on Long Island. And he lived there about two months and sold it, and now he's building another one. He can't enjoy it once it's finished. And I know that's just what I would do. I don't know what the hell I'm workin' for. Sometimes I sit in my apartment - all alone. And I think of the rent I'm paying. And it's crazy. But then, it's what I always wanted. My own apartment, a car, and plenty of women. And still, goddammit, I'm lonely.

- Arthur Miller, from Death of a Salesman (1949)

Why isn't the merchandise manager happy?

- A. The more he has, the more he wants.
- B. He knows Happy is after his job.
- C. He didn't like the way his estate was built.
- D. He doesn't have enough money.
- E. He is lonely.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Happy explains that the manager built a "terrific estate" but lived there for only two months because "He can't enjoy it once it's finished" (line 41). Happy says he would do the same thing, and Happy is also a character who always wants more. The manager clearly has a lot of money, so choice a is incorrect. There is no evidence that he knows Happy is after his job, so choice b is incorrect. Happy tells us that he is lonely, but we do not know if the manager is also lonely, so choice d is incorrect. Happy says that the estate was "terrific," and there is no evidence that the manager didn't like the way it was built, so choice e is incorrect.

NEW QUESTION: 2

Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains a file server named Server1. The File Server Resource Manager role service is installed on Server1. All servers run Windows Server 2012 R2. A Group Policy object (GPO) named GPO1 is linked to the organizational unit (OU) that contains Server1. The following graphic shows the configured settings in GPO1.

Server1 contains a folder named Folder1. Folder1 is shared as Share1.

You attempt to configure access-denied assistance on Server1, but the Enable access-denied assistance option cannot be selected from File Server Resource Manager.

You need to ensure that you can configure access-denied assistance on Server1 manually by using File Server Resource Manager.

Which two actions should you perform?

- A. Set the Enable access-denied assistance on client for all file types policy setting to Enabled for GPO1.
- B. Set the Customize message for Access Denied errors policy setting to Enabled for GPO1.
- C. Set the Customize message for Access Denied errors policy setting to Not Configured for GPO1.
- D. Set the Enable access-denied assistance on client for all file types policy setting to Disabled for GPO1.
