NEW QUESTION: 1

You have two SQL Server instances named SQLDev and SQLProd that have access to various storage media.

You plan to synchronize SQLDev and SQLProd.

You need to recommend a solution that meets the following requirements:

The database schemas must be synchronized from SQLDev to SQLProd.

The database on SQLDev must be deployed to SQLProd by using a package.

The package must support being deployed to SQL Azure.

What should you recommend? More than one answer choice may achieve the goal. Select the BEST answer.

- A. Change data capture
- B. A data-tier application
- C. A database snapshot
- D. SQL Server Integration Services (SSIS)

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

* SIS supports connections to SQL Database by using the ADO.NET provider. OLEDB is not supported at this time. You can build the SSIS package connecting to SQL Database and create the data flow tasks the same way as you would against a typical on premise SQL Server. <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/ee210546.aspx>

NEW QUESTION: 2

The entity will pay dividends for the year of:

- A. US $21,250
- B. US $10,625
- C. US $23,125
- D. US $42,500

Answer: B

Explanation:

The entity has a dividend payout ratio of 25% of profit. Profit before taxes is US $85,000 [ $$500,000$  sales -  $$250,000$  CGS -  $$25,000$  G&A expenses -  $$400,000$  LT debt x 10% interest rate) -  $$600,000$  fixed assets - 6 years)]. Hence, after-tax profit is US $42,500 [ $$85,000 \times 1.0 - .5$ ], and the dividend payout is US $10,625 ( $$42,500 \times 25\%$ ).

During the year ended December 31. an entity had US $500,000 in sales revenue and purchased US $150,000 of inventory. The cost of goods sold was US $250,000 for the year, and the entity incurred US $ 25.000 of general and administrative expenses. The January 1 opening balance sheet was as follows:

The cost of long-term debt financing is 10% per annum, payable in one installment on December 31 of each year. The entity has a 50% tax rate. The entity has a dividend payout ratio of 25%. The fixed assets were 1-year old at the start of the current year were originally estimated to have a 6-year useful life. and are being depreciated on the straightline basis.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Note: This question is part of a series of questions that use the same scenario. For your convenience, the scenario is repeated in each question. Each question presents a different goal and answer choices, but the text of the scenario is exactly the same in each question in this series. You have a database named DB1 that contains the following tables: Customer, CustomerToAccountBridge, and CustomerDetails. The three tables are part of the Sales schema. The database also contains a schema named Website. You create the Customer table by running the following Transact-SQL statement:

The value of the CustomerStatus column is equal to one for active customers. The value of the Account1Status and Account2Status columns are equal to one for active accounts. The following table displays selected columns and rows from the Customer table.

You plan to create a view named Website.Customer and a view named Sales.FemaleCustomers.

Website.Customer must meet the following requirements:

- * Allow users access to the CustomerName and CustomerNumber columns for active customers.

- * Allow changes to the columns that the view references.

Modified data must be visible through the view.

- * Prevent the view from being published as part of Microsoft SQL Server replication.

Sales.Female.Customers must meet the following requirements:

- * Allow users access to the CustomerName, Address, City, State and PostalCode columns.

- * Prevent changes to the columns that the view references.

- * Only allow updates through the views that adhere to the view filter.

You have the following stored procedures:

spDeleteCustAcctRelationship and spUpdateCustomerSummary.

The spUpdateCustomerSummary stored procedure was created by running the following Transact-SQL statement:

You run the spUpdateCustomerSummary stored procedure to make changes to customer account summaries.

Other stored procedures call the spDeleteCustAcctRelationship to delete records from the CustomerToAccountBridge table.

When a procedure calls spDeleteCustAcctRelationship, if the calling stored procedure has already started an active transaction, all the deletions made by the spDeleteCustAccRelationship stored procedure must be committed by the caller; otherwise changes must be committed within the spDeleteCustAcctRelationship stored procedure.

If any error occurs during the delete operation, only the deletes made by the soDeleteCustACCTRelationships stored procedure must be rolled back and the status must be updated.

You need to complete the stored procedure to ensure all the requirements are met.

How should you complete the procedure? To answer, drag the Transact-SQL segments to the correct location.

Each transact-SQL segment may be used once, more than once or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Savepoints offer a mechanism to roll back portions of transactions. You create a savepoint using the SAVE TRANSACTION savepoint_name statement. Later, you execute a ROLLBACK TRANSACTION savepoint_name statement to roll back to the savepoint instead of rolling back to the start of the transaction.
